Preschool

Dear parents,

Well, it's almost the end of April, and I finally uploaded pictures from the school year so far! If you haven't received an invitation to view the pictures online, it's because I don't have your e-mail address! Go to ctlpreschool.shutterfly.com, and sign up to view the pictures!

May looks like a busy month! You can see the front side of this newsletter for dates—the preschool will be involved in the Spring Spectacular and singing for Graduation. I will also be choosing a date to have “Beach Day,” when we are learning about the ocean and enjoy the beach here at school!

God's blessings,

Miss Marquardt

Kindergarten-1st

We have a very busy month coming up! The end of the school always comes with excitement!

Thank you to our future kindergarteners for visiting last week! We really enjoyed it!

We are finishing up our history fair projects this week. Along with finishing them up, we are working on the human body in science class. We are learning the inside and outside body parts! We also took a quick look at the five senses!

We are practicing our musical Goldilocks and the Three Bears. The 1st graders have some individual parts that we are working on in class. I will be talking to parents about costumes that children need to wear.

1st graders had a spelling test yesterday (List #15). Please look for this in their folders. They will receive spelling list #16 tomorrow. The test will be next Wednesday.

Kindergarteners are working on letterbook J. We only have three letterbooks to go! They are so excited! We will also be finishing up the year with addition and subtraction problems and money in math!

We are running out of Kleenex! If you have a spare box, please send to school with your child!

I encourage everyone to attend our outdoor worship this Sunday (please see front for details). This is a great way to worship and have fellowship time with other families! I look forward to seeing everyone there! If you have any question, please feel free to ask me!
